YOUTH GROUP POLICIES

Keep this form for your records

Decorum and Behavior

Every youth who attends a youth program at FHJC, or who participates in a youth trip must abide by the following policies:

1. While a program is in progress, every participant must follow the instructions given by the leaders.
2. While at a program, each child is expected to act appropriately.
3. All synagogue property must be treated with the utmost respect. If a child does any damage, that child and his/her parents are responsible for any and all necessary repairs or replacements.
4. While at a program within the synagogue or on a trip, no child is allowed to leave the group without permission of the group leader.

If any of these rules are broken, a parent will be notified. If a rule is broken for a second time, a meeting will be set up with a parent, Youth Advisor and YAC chairpersons. If this situation continues, the youth may be suspended from the Youth Department and may not participate for a specified period of time. Notice will be given by telephone and email.

Enrollment & Attendance at Programs

Our youth programs are open to all Jewish children in 2nd - 12th grades. According to the United Synagogue policy, a child must have a Jewish mother or have gone through the conversion process. Any exceptions should be brought to Rabbi Skolnik.

Trips

On all trips, youth must follow these rules with no exceptions:

1. On all trips, we will be following the Conservative Movement's laws of Kashrut. Only cold dairy food products may be purchased, except at a kosher facility. If any other food is found by a staff member, it will be confiscated.
2. If there is a program on Shabbat, we will be following the Conservative guidelines in observing Shabbat.
3. A youth will not be allowed to re-enter a program that he/she has left. Once a program begins, a youth must stay within the vicinity of the program. If a child has caused physical danger to him/ herself or others, or does not follow the rules of the trip, his/her parents will be called to pick up their youth. If necessary, the youth will be sent home at the parent's expense.

We are looking forward to a fantastic year!
